525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE EASTERN BASE of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles farther, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by the United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair-shops, stations, and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present, the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present at 95 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, IN U. S. CURRENCY, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Portland by

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of its advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

THE DECEASE OF ALDERMAN PENNIBACKER—THE PARSON INDULGES IN APPROPRIATE REFLECTIONS.

POST OFFIS, CONFEDRIT X ROADS, }
(Wich is in the State uv Kentucky.) }
January 25, 1868. }

Wun by wun we go! Wun by wun the tall [illegible]ks wich her stood unmoved, the blasts uv time, totter and fal! We view their prostrate forms a second, methinks, they sink into the earth and are lost to site tho to memry dear, forever. Then around the old stump the young sprouts grow up more vigorouser than ever.

I am b-ngin these moral reflechuns for nothin. I never waste the pathetics. Whenever a man is pulled drownded from the creek in this vicinity, wich happens frekently, there bein three distilleries on it, I never weep until I see whether he belongs to my congregashen. It requires too much uv an effort to weep, to do it on all okkashuns.

Elder Abslum Pennibacker, to wunst the strength and the ornament uv the meetin house uv wich I hev bin for two years a pastor, departed this life at 2 P. M. this afternoon. For him I weep. For him the teers is flowin over the paper onto wich these lines is penned. I am writin em in the presence uv the wife and children uv de ceest, and it does em good to see me affected. When one kin confer satisfaction at so little trouble as to carry an onion in his pocket handkerchief, he would be a brute, indeed, ef he did not prove hisself ekel to the occasion.

Elder Pennibacker wuz born in the eastern part uv Pennsylvany, uv real old Demokratik stock. He wuz born amid the scenes uv the war uv Independence, and he growed up with Revolooshenary memries inspirin him. His father fought in the Revolooshen, havin come all the way across the Atlantic to do it. He wuz a Hessian, and therefore wuzent penshuned by the Amerikan Guvernment. But at their Foorth uv July celebrashens the ole man wuz invited to sit on the stand, the yoomanry uv that seshun not knowing that it made any difference ez to the side he took in the struggle.

Young Abslum growd up amid exelent infloences. There wuznt no skools in the vicinity in his infancy, and jist ez he mite have bin contaminated by em, his father moved to Kentucky, where he wuz safe from all sich. The old gentleman dyin, Abslum inherited the paternal akers and paternal niggers and became a man among men. The genius uv the man now began to develop. Untrameled by the narrer views uv his paternal ancestor, he boldly launcht out for himself. He early distinguished hisself by his inventive genius, which took the real Kentucky about. 'Twas him wich conceeved the idea uv braidin small wire into the lashes uv nigger whips, and not satisfied with that, he, after a month's hard study, brought out the improvement in the nigger paddle uv boring holes into it. He hed a desprit struggle to git it adoptid. The blind planters uv the neighborhood hed faith in the old paddle, plain, and the Elder wuz first to demonstrate, by actooal experiment on his niggers its sooperiority. He killed two in doing it, but triumphed. It wuz found that more chastisement cood be inflicted with it in a given time, than by the old method, and that it lasted longer.

I need not say wat his politics wuz. He wuz never nothin but a Dimocrat. He commenst his career votin three times for Jackson, and the candidates wich follered in succession hed no cause to complain of his zeal. Under Bookanan his faithfulness wuz rewarded. The post offis wich I now hold wuz given him, and he discharged the dooties faithfully and to the best uv his ability. Ez he coodent read he put wat letters wich arriv out into a box outside, lettin every one come and take one of they wanted to. The paper wich come to the offis for Deekin Pogram he learned to distribut in two weeks. The out goin mail he dumped into a Looisville bag, feelin a grate load wuz off his mind when it departid. He held the offis till they wanted him to make out a quarterly report. He wuz nonplussed. He either hed to buy a nigger who cood read and write or resign, and he resigned. A half starved Yankee wuz appointid in his stead, who reigned till I releeved him.

The elder wuz the happy possessor uv three hundred niggers. They wuz probably the best lot of niggers, ez they run, in Northwestern Kentucky. He had three shades uv color. The trader cood find anything in the line uv nigger up to them three, that he wantid, on his plantashen. Ther wuz the pure Congo, the ag'd mulatto, and the comely quadroon. Ther wuz no higher mix than the quadroon, for it will be remembered the family hadn't bin slave owners but three generashuns. They hed accomplished a great deal, however, for the time they hed em.

The Elder hed bin in failin health ever since 1862. In that year he embarkt into a speculation wich bid fair to make him one uv the wealthiest men in the State, and wood, bed things bin conshuned normal. There wuz niggers runnin to the Federal camps from all parts uv the State, and the Elder conceived an idea uv goin to the sed camps and claimin uv em. The officer in command wuz anxious to conciliate em, that he would gladly give em up, without bein partikler about proofs, and the Elder gathered, in that way, in two months, over a hundred. It required a good deal of ridin, and that fatigue combined with the exposure incident to bushwhackin Federal pickets, wich was guardin his fences and sich, brought on a spell uv sickness from wich he never fully recovered. The Emancipashen Proclamashen nearly finisht him, and he lingered along a broken man until Johnson's 22d uv February speech, wich acted ez a tonic onto him. He revived, but the effect wuz temporary. Ez the Conservatives made hedway, he came up, and ez Congris triumphed, he went down, and thus he lived like a candle in a tin lantern, flickerin or quiet, ez the wind blowd. He pluckt up amazingly after the elecksbuns last fall, but alas, the the treachery of Meade and the reinstatement uv Stanton was two blows from wich he cood not hope to recover. And so, yesterday, at two P. M., wich in this case means post mortem, he died.

"Send in Sairy!" sed he, and a favorit mulat to woman uv hizzin who, owin to the fact uv her havin eight children, who wuz quadroons, hed staved onto the place, wuz sent for. She set on the bed, and the Elder's hed wuz placed in her lap. "Give me my munney," sed he, and a box uv Confedrit scrip wuz given him. And so, with his hed in Sairy's lap, fingerin Confedrit scrip, and takin likker out uv a spoon, he passed gently away. "This is the eend uv life," sed I. "May my eend be like his," murmured Deekin Pogram, and all wuz o'er.

There wuz trubble immejitly. When the Elder's will wuz red I wuz disappointed to find that he had not remembered me, and Mrs. Pennibacker wuz also disappointed to find that the Elder hed left the half of his estate to Sairey, and his wife. Sairey and the people uv the Corners to wich he wuz indebted in small sums, wuz disappointed to find that Bascom hed a morgage on everything the Elder possessed, uv quite its valyoo. Bascom, I bleeve, has a morgage onto every foot uv ground within ten miles uv here. He wood hev a morgage onto my property, make no doubt, of I hed any. But I haint hallelogy! I do wish, however, that some one of more enlarged views wood start a grocery here. Its inconvenient to hev so sharp a man supplying uv yoo with the absloot necessity uv life. We buried the Elder to-day. It wuz a huge funeral. In the front wuz his children, by his wife, then the entire Corners, and back uv them more than forty yaller niggers who hed bin hizzen. Wat drawd em to his tomb? Wuz it instink? Who kin tell? But a piller hez fallen. I am too sad to write more.

Gen. Sherman Makes a Speech

At a meeting of the officers of the Army of the Cumberland, in Cincinnati, February 7th, Gen. Sherman was called on for a speech, to which he responded as follows.

I assure you, gentlemen, that I have been more favored by kind Providence, and by you yourselves, than the world at large knows; for a great deal of work was done before I was called upon to command you in chief. The first three years of the war I now regard, and every old officer will bear me out in this, that the first three years of the war were years of schooling. You were all as brave as you are now, you knew probably as much of the affairs of the world as you do now, but you had not in habit, in form, fashioned yourselves into that school which we term the soldier, where you act from habit, from impulse, from association, rather than from thought. Therefore the first three years of war were years of schooling, and every writer on military affairs tells you that, in France, in Prussia, and wherever you go, three years of strong, patient labor and schooling are necessary to make a soldier. All this you had when I succeeded to this command. And how dutiful you all were; how patient at the task! I had Thomas as a center. [Wild applause.] And he had to back him 50,000 pretty clever men. [Laughter.] On his right was McPherson. [Cheers.] I knew him, probably, better than all who are here. I had known him for years, socially and as an officer, and a braver, bolder, and gentler man never served any land. [Applause.] He is not here, but he looks down upon us now, and I know he is pleased to see you here together in social intercourse, and I know when you speak his name, in kindness and praise, it will reach him where he now is. [Sensation and applause.] And I tell you when I had McPherson on my right I knew all was well there, too. [Cheers.] I looked to the other end and there was Schofield, with a large brain and a firm [illegible] up on his feet that nothing can move but the stroke of death. Where he was was security. Then, with three such armies in one—the great trinity of war—how could I fail? No danger, no amount of distance, no amount of obstruction, weighed a feather in my mind, for I knew they could all be overcome.

Therefore, my friends, we all went in from the head to the foot, with a consciousness that victory was bound to be ours. [Cheers.] And that resolution gained victory. [Cheers.] That resolution carried us wherever we turned our columns, whether over the mountains about Chattanooga, whether over the vast region of pine which lay between us and the sea, whether to the north or the south—for every soldier of you thought you were going to Richmond, and you were right. Every movement we made from the day we left Chattanooga, was an attack upon Richmond. [Cheers and laughter.] And now, my friends, to dwell upon things of this kind, so familiar to you all, would simply be consuming time and tiring you. [Cries of "No, no," "go on," "we've got past the sea, now." Laughter and cheers.] But I assure you, gentlemen, when you couple all these events together and spread them before the great outside world, our own people, and the French, the German and the English, you will be amazed at the minuteness of their knowledge. They have studied every march, and every movement of the right or left, and I have seen this summer and last men of the highest intelligence abroad who studied our movements and can tell you to-day more than we ourselves know of their bearing upon the history of the world. And I do believe that the movements of the great Army of the West, after it came together as a whole, after it operated as one body of men in perfect harmony in all parts, inspired, with a single purpose, that every movement was not only skillfully conceived, but skillfully executed; and I have often, in my conversation with foreign officers, explained the movement by which we withdrew our beleaguring army at Atlanta, and I believe that it was as well executed as the march upon Sadowa that summer. We withdrew an army of 100,000 from a line of investment of 15 miles in length, and resumed a position in three columns without the loss of one man, and that in the presence of 50,000 enemies. We then marched a thousand miles through an enemy's country and never even had a man tried or executed by a court martial during that time. There never was a council of war held. So that, gentlemen, on the whole, I, for my part, am perfectly satisfied with the career of the armies of the Great West, or the great army of the West, whichever you may please to call it, and if you are equally satisfied we certainly are in perfect harmony.

MEETING OF BOARD OF MANAGERS.

SALEM, TUESDAY, March 10.

At one o'clock P. M. the board came to order, under the call of President Dufur.

The Corresponding Secretary being absent, and his resignation being offered, it was accepted, and C. N. Terry appointed in his stead.

The resignation of J. H. Douthit was tendered, but was not accepted, as the board of managers felt that Mr. D. was acting from a misunderstanding of important facts, which might lead to his changing his course of action.

Mr. Minto was elected a member of the committee on publication.

A committee on finance, consisting of Messrs. T. G. Naylor, W. J. Herren, and J. Minto, was appointed.

The Treasurer's report was received, and referred to the finance committee.

On motion, a committee of three was appointed to examine into the condition of the grant of land made by Congress for the endowment of an Agricultural College.

On motion, a committee to draw up a memorial to Congress, praying the appointment of an Oregon man to a clerkship in the Agricultural Bureau as a more efficient mode of making known the peculiar local wants of agriculture in Oregon, and also the peculiar inducements our State offers to immigrants—was appointed. The committee is composed of Messrs. S. E. May, W. J. Herren, J. Minto and President Dufur.

On motion, the meeting adjourned till to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

TAKING COURAGE.—Ex Secretary Mallory, of Jeff Davis' Cabinet, is editor of the West Florida Commercial, and thus advises his old Confederate friends not to give up their hope of ultimate triumph:

Generous friends are risking their brightest dreams of political preferment by their devotion to our interests, and they counsel us to patient endurance, passive resistance, and to trust to them for victory. Fernando Wood of the Empire State and City of New York, but a few days ago, in the House of Representatives, denounced Congress as an "infamous body," for its course towards the South, and refusing to retract or apologise, submitted to be reprimanded by the Speaker, under a vote of the House. Such firmness, such devotion to principle, is telling upon the people, and the South has but to maintain the dignified position of yielding nothing, and of patient endurance of wrong which she is powerless to avert, to emerge from this great contest with a reputation commanding the love and confidence of its friends and the respect of its enemies. Will the opposition of good and true men to tyranny cease? Will they acquiesce in the rule which [illegible] them [illegible] slavery? Never, never, never! And their ultimate triumph is as certain as that the Creator and Ruler of the Universe is a God of Truth, Wisdom and Justice.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING MARCH 14 1868

The Lament of the Impeached

"J. B. S." Jerome B. Stillson, is the correspondent of the New York World who is the hero of so many conversations with the President. He has explored all the penetralia of the Executive Mansion and held confidential communications without number with its occupant all of which have been reported to the World and published as semi-official expositions of Johnson's opinions. Much reliance has been placed on the correspondent's statements by the Copperhead press and his version of the affair between Grant and the President, which of course was intended to greatly disparage Grant, has been accepted by the Democrats as gospel truth. We go into these details for the purpose of showing who the World's correspondent is who reports the last conversation with Johnson which was received by telegraph. Nothing could be more ludicrous than the whimpering, whining, snivelling tone attributed to Johnson by his pet correspondent. What has become of the courage which Jerry Black attributed to the "tribune of the people" when he introduced that threat in his last message, informing Congress that in case of an attempt to impeach him, he would resist their authority? It has subsided into a begging, cringing, apologetic style,—a pitiful attempt to obtain sympathy by representing himself as an abused and persecuted individual. The accusation against the members of the House who originated impeachment is one of Johnson's characteristic strokes. "They lacked the courage to defend the Constitution and the Union against the attack of the rebels. After the war is over in which they took none but a wordy part, they have relapsed into their original status as politicians, who held the Constitution at too light a value either to be valiantly defended or treated with reverence." That this is highly Johnsonian must be conceded when it is remembered that more than a score of the Congressmen who have been active in moving impeachment are men who periled their lives on the battle field in defense of the Union, while Johnson himself never ventured out of a place of safety, and took "none but a wordy part" in the conflict. Did so great a man as Mr. Johnson ever hear, in connection with the struggle, of the names of such unimportant men as Logan and Farnsworth of Illinois, of Banks and Butler of Massachusetts; of Schenck and Garfield of Ohio, of Paine and Washburne of Wisconsin, and numerous others who made an honorable record by fighting rebels in the field, while he, surrounded by a guard of bayonets, did nothing that showed more courage than his windy speeches against the rebels? This is the man that belittles the services of the meritorious, and extols and magnifies his own imaginary exploits. It has always been a weakness of his to place too high an estimate upon himself. He is of opinion that the preservation of the country is due entirely to his own efforts, when the truth is, he was never of any real service to the Union. He was placed on the ticket in 1864, not because of any real or supposed merit in him, but solely because it was thought it would look well to have both sections of the country represented on the ticket, and he was the only Southern man who could be found. Had it been imagined that he would ever be President, he would not have been thought of for the nomination he received. He is of no consequence to the country and never was, but he commits the modest mistake of supposing that it owes its salvation entirely to his frothy harangues against the rebels, this being the only service he ever rendered.

The complaint that he is to be sacrificed though Jeff. Davis has not yet been brought to trial, is another [illegible] which rebounds against himself. Probably nobody will question the propriety of his coupling his name with that of Jeff. Davis in the matter of trial and punishment. This may be overlooked. But when he censures others because Davis has not been tried, he proclaims his own unfaithfulness and hypocrisy. He has specially pardoned twenty thousand persons who are equally as guilty as Davis, he has pursued a course which has had the effect to practically establish the fact that treason is not a crime, and he has rendered the punishment of Davis morally impossible by releasing all others from the penalty of their equal guilt. To him alone the failure to punish leading rebels is therefore due, and he cannot shift the responsibility of it upon other shoulders.

How "We" Conquered the Rebellion.

The Herald informs its readers that "in conquering the rebellion we did not overcome the right of self-government." Just to show how "we" conquered the rebellion, attention is called to the following extracts from the Democratic Press, a paper published at San Francisco in 1864 —"Beriah Brown, Editor." On the 12th of March of that year, that paper said:

> At the commencement of this war we sought to uphold the Constitution and the Democratic platform as our only guide—denying the Constitutional power of the Federal Government to coerce the allegiance of a State.

This is explicit enough, but the following is, if possible still more so. We quote from the Press of the 26th March, 1864:

> We are opposed to the war and the policy of the war. Everywhere and under all circumstances, we have protested against the war and the purpose for which it is prosecuted.

On the 24th of June, 1864, the Press said:

> The pretense of using the military power of the Government to put down insurrection, or compelling the return of the seceded States to the Union by force of arms, is all false, and aimed at the principles on which the Government was founded.

As we have a very full file of the Press it would be easy to multiply these quotations to any length, to show how "we conquered the rebellion;" but as the leading articles in that paper are mere repetitions of the old song of which we have given the key, lengthy extracts would be irksome. Just to show further how "we conquered the rebellion," we quote the following resolution from the "Democratic" platform of California, in 1861:

> Resolved, That we are opposed to the employment of force by the General Government against the seceded States for the purpose of compelling obedience and submission to Federal authority.

To close these extracts in a suitable manner, we present the following from the Chicago platform of 1864:

> Resolved, That this Convention does explicitly declare, that after four years failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war, justice, humanity, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities, etc.

Didn't "we" conquer the rebellion? Isn't it clear from the record that "we" are entitled to the honor?

A few days ago, Robert Foster of Albany, a boy about twelve years of age, was caught in the machinery of the Magnolia mill, and came near being killed. He was carried around a shaft revolving one hundred times a minute. His boots were both thrown from his feet at the first revolution. The miller instantly shut down the gate and stopped the mill, which saved the boy's life. He had one arm broken in two places, and one ankle badly crushed.

HALF FARE FOR DELEGATES.—We are informed that the O. S. N. Company have generously offered to convey the delegates appointed to the Union State Convention, at half rates both going and returning, and that the P. T. Company have made a similar offer. This liberality, we doubt not, will be appreciated.

Col. Kelsay addressed the Grant Club at Albany last Saturday.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 12.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, March 12.—In the House the Speaker presented a communication from the Governor of West Virginia transmitting resolutions from the Legislature condemnatory of the President.

The joint resolutions for the erection of a storehouse at Fortress Monroe passed.

In the Senate Grimes offered a resolution instructing the Finance Committee to inquire into the expediency of reducing the tariff on foreign merchandise imported into the United States in the same proportion with the reduction of the tax on manufactures.

In the House the report of the Committee on Retrenchment relative to the alleged frauds [illegible] came up. A long debate mainly affecting the character of Clarke, Superintendent of the Printing Bureau and his method of printing treasury notes.

Randall offered a resolution that the report and testimony be recommitted with instructions to report whether any changes are requisite in the present mode of printing Government notes or bonds.

Kelly stated that bonds with duplicate numbers are frequently received for cancellation and the Treasury clerks having charge of the matter became alarmed and insisted that the redeemed bonds should not be destroyed but cancelled and preserved, and now when the bond is received with its duplicate number some gentleman connected with the department is called and suggests the number which the bond ought to bear and the number is changed accordingly. He suggested that the Committee should turn its attention to that particular point.

Stevens gave notice that at half past four he would move the previous question on the Alabama bill. The morning hour expired and the Freedmen's Bureau bill came up. After some consideration it went over to Tuesday next.

The Senate amendments to the Diplomatic Appropriation bill were concurred in with the exception of that reducing the salary of Consul at Guaymas to $1,000 and that reducing the appropriation for contingent expenses for legations abroad. A Committee of Conference was ordered.

In the Senate this morning a bill granting pensions to certain soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, was taken up. Sherman and Fessenden strongly opposed the bill as an unjustifiable expenditure in the present condition of finances. It went over.

A large number of private bills were taken up and passed.

The Senate then went into executive session and soon adjourned.

The second clause of the same article reciprocally agree to the same provisions. It is provided that whoever having thus alienated himself from his own country and returns to his native country and there acquires domicil, shall by the acquisition of such domicil be considered to have renounced his citizenship.

Article 2 says that naturalized citizens upon return to their native country, remain liable to trial and punishment for actions punishable by the laws of their original country committed before emigration.

Article 3 extends the extradition treaty of 1852 between the United States and Prussia to the North German Bund.

Article 4 declares the acquisition of domicil, which works a loss of citizenship, shall be presumable from two years residence in the original country and the declaration of intention to become citizens shall have no international effect.

Article 5 and 6 relate to the ratification of the treaty and stipulate that this shall take effect within six months, and the treaty shall take effect immediately after the exchange of ratifications and remain in force ten years.

New York Democracy—Seymour on the Greenback Question.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Democratic resolutions consist of serious charges against the Republican party. They invite the aid of all lovers of civil liberty to join in a grand and successful effort to rid the country of such tyrants, and secure the triumph of Democratic principles.

Seymour, in his speech denounced the proposition to pay the public debt in greenbacks, as a stain on the honor of the country, and as ruinous to business interests and laboring men.

Pennsylvania Republican Convention.

CHICAGO, March 12.—The Pennsylvania Republican Convention, after a long debate, passed a resolution instructing their delegates to the National Convention to vote as a unit for Grant and Curtin. The resolutions say nothing in regard to impartial suffrage, denounce Johnson, demand an adequate tariff for the protection of domestic industry, insist on the preservation of the public faith in the payment of the public debt, and demand protection for native and naturalized citizens abroad.

Mexico.

HAVANA, March 11.—The steamer from Vera Cruz on the 7th, brings City of Mexico dates to the night of March 4th, and Mazatlan to 7th of February.

A schooner has been engaged to take Gen. Placido Vega, as prisoner, by sea to some point south of Mazatlan, whence he could be sent to the capital.

A messenger has been sent to the Indian Chief Hesante asking him to come to the rescue of Vega.

Gen. Martinez is accused of double dealing. He claims to be neutral.

The troops from Durango were joining Gov. Rubio in the mountains. Cols. Barrejo and other officers were still plotting against Gen. Palancias in Durango. They concert with guerrillas for further revolutionary movements which are imminent.

The Herald's special says that the British steamer Danube, when leaving Vera Cruz, was ordered to stop, having smuggled specie on board, but she escaped before the guns of the fort could be trained on her. A British corvette anchored between the fort and the Danube.

The Yucatan expedition is returning to Vera Cruz.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Herald's Vera Cruz special says Gen. Alatorre fears a new revolution in Yucatan. Objection having been made to Governor Capado personally, the national Government persuaded him to resign. He is coming to Vera Cruz, on his way to the Capital.

South America.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The Rising Star brings Panama advices to the 2d. The cholera continues terribly in the Argentine Confederation. There had been 7,000 victims in Cordova.

The steamers Georgia and Nacional bombarded Rosario on January 9th, without notice. The foreign consuls protested.

Gen. Balta will be the Presidential candidate in Peru. Another revolution was on the tapis. Yellow fever was at Lima.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Three quarters of the town of Jefferson, Texas, was burned on the night of the 3d instant. Fifty or sixty stores were destroyed. The loss is $1,000,000.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, March 11.—Gen. Dix has arrived here and it is understood he will remain for some weeks. It is said he comes on business connected with the Alabama claims.

The House of Commons has agreed to report Gladstone's bill for the abolition of church votes.

In the House of Commons last night, John Francis Maguire, from Cork, said that he thought Ireland was a part of the British Empire, and is now peaceful. The personal liberty of every man in that country was at the mercy of spies, police or government officials and this state of things existed when the records of the Courts showed there were few cases of ordinary crime. He then quoted from the statistics of pauperism, emigration and other evils of the country and declared that it was decaying and that its prosperity was in despair. Discontent was a word inadequate to express the state of feeling. He made a denial of the statement that the farming classes of Ireland are disloyal. Past cruelties had made this impression upon the Irish people. The object of all future laws should be to obliterate these remembrances. The laws in regard to the tenure of land were defective and operated so disastrously that means tenantries which were good two years ago were now worthless. He denounced London Guilds, which hire large tracts of Irish lands, for their cruelty to their tenants. Ireland needed no commissions of inquiry to establish that the church was not suited to the majority of the people who detested it.

After several speeches by other gentlemen, Lord Clinton moved a resolution that the discontent in Ireland is a source of uneasiness to the Empire and must be remedied; that laws for Ireland should be framed to suit the wishes of the people, that the present church, school and land tenure system are unjust, and that in the opinion of Commons, this cause should be righted.

John O'Brien, member from Cashel, is dead.

A large body of the Irish sympathize with the Fenians.

Earl Mayo, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in a long and able speech, admitted the great discontent that prevailed in Ireland but said it was exclusively nourished by the Irish in America and Irish in Australia or Canada. He felt that there was no discontent even in Ireland. The feeling was confined to the lower classes only. There was no prominent Fenian in Ireland. He repelled the charge of English misgovernment. The members of the present Government at Dublin are nearly all Irishmen. The police force was composed entirely of natives. He advocated the maintenance of the present police but promised that a bill will be soon introduced for the relief of tenants.

BERLIN, March 11.—The treaty relative to rights of naturalized citizens was unanimously ratified by the Federal Council.

It is reported here that a proposition was recently made by Stanly to submit the Alabama claims to the arbitration of Prussia, and he was willing to entertain the proposition so far as it applied to the question of indemnity but refused to submit other points in dispute.

A correspondent of one of our Copperhead papers congratulates himself that the cry of "rebel" has lost its force, and is no longer a political argument. No doubt this writer, and all his party would be very glad to have the time arrive when the antecedents of men should no longer be considered in deciding upon their fitness for public trust and power. But the wish is father to the thought. That time has not come yet, and will not for many a day.

The Record says that South Salem is improving and rapidly building up.

The Willow Creek Mines

MORMON BASIN, BAKER Co., OREGON,
March 2d, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Believing that the columns of the OREGONIAN are open for any information calculated to benefit the people I write the subjoined for publication, for the benefit of "whom it may concern."

Learning from various sources that thousands of men contemplate rushing to this vicinity on the opening of spring, expecting from outside reports to find "extensive" and rich gold fields already discovered where thousands of men can find profitable employment immediately on their arrival I deem it my duty as an old resident of Mormon Basin (September 1862) to apprise them of the certain disappointment that awaits them. No discoveries of recent date have been made either in Mormon Basin, Easton District, or Shasta creek, that will justify any great number of men in the hope of getting employment even at wages. Some designing persons, I presume unknown to the writer of this, have circulated fabulous stories concerning the "richness" and extent of the mines in this vicinity, well calculated to cause a stampede of thousands of men in this direction, when they must know that nineteen out of every twenty are doomed to disappointment, and will leave here uttering curses loud and deep against those who "stampeded" them.

Reader, if you are a young man without wife or little ones, or aged parents looking to you for support, are out of employment, having from three to five hundred dollars that you can just as well spare as not, have fully made up your mind that for the next five years you will follow the arduous and precarious calling of a miner, are physically able to endure all kinds of hardships, are willing to deprive yourself of all the luxuries, comforts, and blessings of well regulated society, have all the patience accredited to Job, can endure innumerable disappointments, are willing to "stand guard" half of each night—while "prospecting"—to insure the safety of your scalp, and prevent the Indians from stealing your horses, can, in case of necessity, live on "bacon straight without the beans," and are a "good shot" with a Henry rifle, you are just the man to assist in the development of Eastern Oregon. To all others I would say—stay at home. I would not say one word in disparagement of our neighboring mining camps. Success attend them say I, but I do think it wrong to induce thousands to come here when there are men in our midst who would rejoice to know where they could locate a claim out of which they could realize five dollars a day for the next six months.

L. W. GITCHELL.

Our enterprising neighbor, C. W. Durkee, last fall, secured a charter for a toll road from his Express Ranch via Rye valley, Mormon Basin, Easton District, thence to Shasta creek. He has put in a substantial bridge across Burnt river, near the Express Ranch, and I am credibly informed, has a good road graded within two and a half miles of Mormon Basin. It is confidently believed that it will be completed to this camp inside of three weeks. The miners have felt so great an interest in this enterprise, that they have turned out in squads of eight and ten to labor on the same, volunteering their services. The grading is being prosecuted with vigor down the canyon towards Easton. This will be acceptable news to freighters. Hitherto, they have been obliged to divide their loads at Rye valley, not being able to haul a full load over California mountain. Any load that can be hauled to Rye valley can be hauled to this place with ease. Durkee's road makes the distance four miles less than the old one. G.

The Jacksonville Reveille quotes some extracts from the speech which General Sherman made before the Society of the Army of the Tennessee at St. Louis last November, in which the great soldier remarked that it "passed his understanding how any Southern man could boast of his 'Lost Cause,' or speak of it in other language than of shame and sorrow," and that he, (Sherman) "knew that their 'Lost Cause' would sink deeper and deeper into infamy as time probes its hidden mysteries and reveals them to the light of day." The Reveille, like a good Democratic paper of the Copperhead sort, takes umbrage at these words, and remarks in relation to their author:

> "This brave and chivalrous gentleman is aspiring to the Presidency. He desires to be the Democratic nominee. The hobby upon which he will appear before the Convention will be his 'raid to the sea.' His chances for the nomination are about as good as those of Fred Douglass, but if by any mischance—by any chicanery—he should receive it, there will be 500,000 Democratic voters who will not assist in his election—we know of one who will not. For the consideration of Democrats who may have any Sherman on the brain, we append the following choice, select morsel from a speech of his," etc., etc.

Now here is genuine Democracy of the modern kind. The Reveille will not hear the 'Lost Cause' spoken of with disrespect. "Vandal Sherman" has given a mortal offence, and is as odious to the "Democracy" now as he was when "sweeping to the sea."

Umatilla County Convention

UMATILLA, Oregon, March 9, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The Umatilla Union County Convention met pursuant to a call of the Chairman of the Central Committee, in Pinkham's Hall, on Saturday the 7th inst., and

On motion, J. S. White was elected Chairman, and Lot Livermore Secretary.

On motion, a committee on credentials was appointed, which in a few minutes, reported all the precincts represented.

Nominations were made for delegates to attend the State Convention to be held at Salem on the 24th of March, 1868, and upon a vote being taken, resulted in the election of A. B. Meacham, Capt. J. H. Fisk and Capt. H. W. Waters.

On motion, adjourned.

J. S. WHITE, Chairman.
LOT LIVERMORE, Sec.

UNION AND DEMOCRATIC SOLDIERS.—The difference between Union and "Democratic" soldiers is thus illustrated by the Record:

> In the late County Convention of our opponents, the Democracy, there was a soldier fresh from Price's army, who represented Silverton. One of the nominees for Legislature has, it is said, served in the Missouri militia which the Government disbanded because it was not loyal. Now, we have, as a delegate from East Salem, Uncle Jesse Ward, who was a soldier in 1812. Why don't the Democracy trot out their soldiers of 1812? They have plenty of rebel soldiers to exhibit, and they don't hesitate to show them to the world as their champions, but those veterans of 1812 happen to be almost, if not all, on our side.

Concerning the threats of the Confederates, the Albany Journal says:

> The "Jones Family" and Price's horse thieves may feel a little mischievous this spring, and a few pasture fences belonging to Union men may be opened, but there is not much danger of the 'Confederate forces' going farther into the campaign for some time. Democratic threats of intestine war fall very light on loyal ears. Their late drubbing will not be forgotten by them for a long time.

CONVENIENT AND SIMPLE.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are a simple and convenient form for administering, in combination, several medical substances held in general esteem among physicians in the treatment of Bronchial affections and Coughs. The Troches seldom fail to give relief.

THE STEAMER JOHN L. STEPHENS not lost! but has arrived at Portland, and brought to KOHN & FISHEL, the largest and best assortment of Gentlemen's Spring and Summer Suits, the latest style, and of the best material that has been offered in this city for years. The Ladies have not been forgotten. They will find by an inspection of the stock just arrived that their wants have been anticipated by a selection of dry goods the equal of which is not often presented here.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

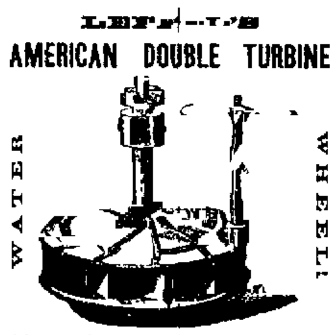
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

The following is from the Springfield Republic:

Trial of Water Wheels.

Messrs. Jonathan Child and John A. McCreight, who are about establishing mills and factories at Harper's Ferry, Va., wished to procure water wheels and desiring to make a choice of Springfield Wheels procured a trial between the Leffel Double Turbine and the Welch and Burns Wheel. The following report of the Committee shows the result of the trial:

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 11, 1867.

This is to certify that on the 9th and 10th days of October, 1867, I, in company with Mr. Staley, Civil Engineer, of Mechanicsburg carefully measured the amount of water used in the test between the 10 inch Leffel Turbine and the 10 inch Welch & Burns Water wheels, made by Bechtle, Blakeney & Baker, made at Welmer's mill near West Milton, Miami Co., O. The contract requiring the tests to be made with ½ gates and ¾ gates with the same amount of water for each wheel. The amount of grinding was superintended by Mr. Charles Morgan who will report the results.

The amount of water used in the tests, as measured by myself and Mr. Staley, is as follows:

	Cubic ft. per min.
At ½ gate the Leffel Wheel used	88 221
Welch & Burns used	88 221
At ¾ gate the Leffel Wheel used	117 528
Welch & Burns used	117 528

The grinding was continued for one hour each test.

WILLIAM BROWN,
Civil Engineer.
S. S. STALEY.

Having been chosen by both parties to determine the amount of grain ground by each of the above mentioned wheels, the result was as follows:

The Leffel Wheel at ½ gate ground	456	lbs
The Welch & Burns at ½ gate ground	361¼	lbs
The Leffel Wheel at ¾ gate ground	411½	lbs
The Welch & Burns at ¾ gate ground	192	lbs

CHARLES MORGAN.

An Enterprising firm of this city have imported a few of the above CHEAP, PLAYED-OUT WHEELS. They GUARANTEE THEM EQUAL TO THE LEFFEL OR NO PAY.

FROM WARM SPRINGS. THE CROOKED RIVER COUNTRY.—Capt. John Smith, Indian Agent at Warm Springs, came down Thursday evening on business, and will return this day. From him we learn that the Indians of his Agency are getting along finely, having suffered but little from the cold weather of January and February. He thinks that not more than one hundred ponies were lost, a small per cent of the aggregate numbers owned by the Indians. There are some of them who own bands of upwards of one hundred or more, and many who own fifty head each. Capt. Smith talks encouragingly about the prospects of the Indians coming finally to adopt civilized modes of living. Most of them have comfortable cabins, and many of them are using bedsteads, chairs, tables and other furniture, and really seem to enjoy living like white folks. The agency has a good day school kept at the expense of the government, and a regular Sunday school has long been in operation, of which Capt. Smith assumes in person, the principal charge. In both of these the Indians and their children are taught and encouraged to use the English language. They are very free to acknowledge their vastly improved condition on the reservation, under the control and care of the United States, and there seems to be no disposition to lapse back into their original barbarism. On the various farms connected with the reserve nearly 1,000 bushels of wheat were raised last year, besides large quantities of vegetables. At harvest time there was a considerable surplus left over from the preceding year.

Capt. Smith informs us that the Ochoco and other valleys tributary to Crooked river, are attracting considerable attention. About forty or fifty claims have already been taken in Ochoco valley and there are still many [illegible] of Wasco county who are talking strongly of going in there in the spring to take up farms. The Ochoco is about forty miles south east of Warm Springs and on the line of the Lebanon and Canyon City road. There are numerous other small valleys along the Crooked river which, though smaller, are equally desirable for [illegible]. The land is extremely rich and well adapted to the production of grain and vegetables. The whole country is unsurpassable for grazing purposes. Most of the valleys are well protected from the winds which in winter sweep so bitingly over the high table lands of Eastern Oregon. The Captain has information that quite a number of families from Linn and Polk [illegible] contemplate crossing the mountains this spring to find homes and farms in the Crooked river country. The [illegible] road leading through this country, will facilitate to some extent, its settlement, and in turn will [illegible] become the main thoroughfare between the mines of Grant county and the central Willamette valley.

FROM VANCOUVER.—The Register, received last evening, contains the following manifesto from Mr Aug. A. [illegible]:

Over land and water—the route must and shall be [illegible], if it takes all summer.

The efforts of getting the Plank Road built by Multnomah county, were not crowned with success, as already stated and generally expected, through the manifold exertions and influences of parties best known to the [illegible], who are well acquainted with the history of their neighborhood. But such is life. Nil desperandum is our motto.

It has long since been a wonder to me, how the community will tolerate such doings without getting aroused and put their foot down, determined no longer to allow their mutual interest and welfare to be tampered with. Let every man put his shoulder to the wheel, with all his might and help to alter things.

To that end, there will be a meeting on Saturday afternoon, March 14th, at 2 o'clock, at Oro Fino Hall to which everybody is respectfully invited, at which time and place the undersigned will make a review of the past. After said public meeting, there will be called the first meeting of the shareholders of the "Oregon and Washington Territory Plank Road and Steam Ferry Company.

AUG A SHAEBEN

[illegible] from Mr Shaeben, by the mail of last evening [illegible] us that he is making an effort to organize a joint stock company with a capital of $30,000 in shares of $40 each, for the purpose of building and maintaining a plank [illegible] from East Portland to Switzler's landing on the [illegible], and a steam ferry across the Columbia river. He says that a lively interest is manifested in the scheme at Vancouver, and that he will be in Portland by next [illegible], to canvass for stock.

[illegible] COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The following are the [illegible] of Friday, 13th

The State of Oregon vs James Kelly, verdict of the jury, [illegible] guilty as charged in the indictment.

State vs. James Timons, on affidavit being filed of absence of a material witness for the defendant, the case was continued until the next term of Court. The testimony of Ada Phillips and E. Wilson was ordered to be taken before O. P. Mason, Notary Public, at 10 o'clock [illegible] the Court House. The jury was discharged.

Clara A. Patterson vs. Wm P Patterson, plaintiff [illegible] divorce from defendant, and awarded custody of child, and was allowed to assume the name of Clara A [illegible].

[illegible] Kelly and Wm. Brooks, convicted of burglary, to [illegible] to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

AN OREGON AUTHOR IN NEW YORK.—The New York [illegible] of a recent date has the following notice of a well-known pioneer of Oregon, and a book he has just [illegible]: "Rev. Gustavus Hines, of the Oregon Conference, has [illegible], and Carlton & Porter have now in press, a book of over 300 pages 12mo, entitled 'Oregon and Its Institutions,' comprising a complete History of the Willamette University, the first establishment on the Pacific [illegible]. The author has spent more than twenty years in the Methodist itinerancy in that country, officiating [illegible], as presiding elder in every part of the State, and acting as trustee of the University whose history he [illegible] records. His book will be brought out in the usual excellent style of the Book Room, and will be illustrated with engravings."

[illegible] GOODS.—We are informed that Messrs Fleish[illegible] & Co. shipped for Montana and Idaho yesterday [illegible] tons of clothing made from Oregon woolen goods. Respectable as the trade in our manufactured [illegible] has been for the last two or three years, it is [illegible] increasing and assuming a permanent import[ance]. [illegible] is the demand for these goods that the factories [illegible] to increase their working force. Mr A [illegible] of the Portland clothing factory advertises this [illegible] for six additional seamstresses.

[illegible] OF APPLES.—It is said that the shippers of apples have [illegible] in getting pretty well ahead of shippers of other produce, by the John L. Stephens. The [illegible] will take from 6,000 to 8000 boxes, as estimated, to the exclusion of less perishable but more valuable produce. Of course, wheat and flour dealers, though not [illegible], are grumbling deep. There has been [illegible] among shippers, the successful ones [illegible] and the unsuccessful ones are—otherwise.

NEW ARRANGEMENT IN THE DRUG BUSINESS.—Mr. Chas [illegible] Smith [illegible] Hodge & Calef, has purchased the good will and stock of drugs, medicines, etc., of Dr. L. Gross, and will continue the business in [illegible] corner Alder and Front streets. Charley being a very genial and, withal, excellent business man, we take pleasure in commending him to general [illegible]. Day or night, the store will be found open to all callers on business.

[illegible]. The following produce arrived yesterday from [illegible] City. Per Senator, 4,000 qr sks flour, 200 boxes [illegible], 14 cases pork, 1 hf bbl dried apples and 14 [illegible]. Per Alert, 4,600 qr sacks flour, 50 gunnies wheat, 200 boxes apples, 52 bbls beef, 12 fire tiles, 5 tons pig iron. Per Wenat, 158 boxes apples, 606 qr sacks flour, 5 boxes eggs. Per Fannie Troup from Sauvie's [illegible], 160 boxes apples, 35 gunnies onions.

BASE BALL ELECTION.—The Washington B B. Club of [illegible], held its annual election on the 6th inst at which the following officers were chosen: L. S Babbitt, [illegible]; Jacob Preshetel, Vice President; Dan'l Leahy, Secretary; E H Freeman, Treasurer; Directors, Willoughby, M. Hall and A Haine. Captain of the First Nine, L. S. Babbitt.

[illegible].—The Record say that during the late winter the Salmon brothers, who have been operating the quartz mill at the Santiam mines, have invented an improved rotary engine, of which competent machinists [illegible] their favorable opinions. It may be run by either steam or water. The inventors have filed a caveat [illegible].

SNOW STORM.—Yesterday morning, this city and vicinity were visited by a regular old fashioned March snow storm. In a little while the neighboring hills were made to look as hoary as old Winter himself. They wore their [illegible] all day, too, as though discouraged about the [illegible] coming.

COUNTY COURT—IN VACATION.—Yesterday, Judge Mar[illegible], in the matter of the estate of David Cox, deceased [illegible] George A Steele administrator; letters to issue upon the filing of bond in the sum of $10,000. W. S [illegible], A P Dennison and Ed Barstow were appointed [illegible].

THE DOWNFALL OF THE REPUBLIC.—Within a short time [illegible], Mr J. H. Stinson, of this city, will deliver a public lecture upon "The Downfall of Our Republic" when the candid and thinking men of all parties are invited to be present.

BOAT FOR CORVALLIS.—The P. T Co will despatch an extra boat—the Enterprise—this morning for Salem and Corvallis.

[illegible] TO DAY.—The steamship Ajax will sail from San [illegible] for Portland to-day.

The following expression of Democratic principles is from the New York Day Book.

The Tribune is afraid the South won't enjoy paying its share of the war debt. It ought, certainly, to be too inexpressibly happy to pay a debt illegally contracted in plundering and murdering her citizens. A Southern man who advises [illegible] a faithful complying with the terms of the [illegible] is a patriotic genius—and if he was not [illegible] of a negro wench, he ought to have been.

SIGNS AND PORTENTS.—From the earliest times there has been in many minds a firm belief in supernatural things. If there is anything like skepticism remaining in this community regarding the ability of Barman Bros to sell the best goods at the lowest prices, it will be removed by calling at their store at the corner of Front and Morrison streets, where a large new stock of every description of clothing, [illegible], will be found.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK [illegible] CITY, I. T. Organized March [illegible], 1866 [illegible] under Act of Congress approved June 3, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital $100,000. [illegible] M Dutcell, President; C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts in the principal places of Utah Territory promptly attended to. From the Providence Journal

The Pain Killer Abroad.

The following correspondence will show something of the estimation in which Perry Davis' Pain Killer is held on the shores of the Mediterranean. It is not surprising that a medicine that receives such testimonials as this from abroad, should find well sustained and increasing appreciation at home.

U. S. CONSULATE, TUNIS, Dec 27 1865

To the Proprietors of Davis' Pain Killer, Providence, R. I.—Gentlemen. The enclosed has just been received from my friend Tulin, late Consul General of Norway and Sweden and of Prussia in this place. No comment is needed. Truly yours, AMOS PERRY

GENOA, December 16 1865

Dear Sir —Accept thanks for this third supply of Davis "Pain Killer." This medicine has often relieved me of serious indisposition, and I would not on any account consent to be without it both for myself and my family.

I have recommended it to my late colleagues and friends in Tunis and Genoa, and at my request one of the largest druggists in this city has sent an order to New York to meet the demand in this place.

Yours truly, G A TULIN,
Ex Consul Gen'l of Sweden, Norway & Prussia in Tunis

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers; the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers. Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels.

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME GENIAL, and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

WOMEN TO DO THE COURTING

The sexes are fully equal in intellect, in moral sense, and even in physique (admitting that women were designed to be more delicately organized) taking the stand point from the best models which is the true criterion, all others being exceptional therefore there is a propriety in admitting that a woman has a right to choose her husband, just as much as for a man to choose a wife and the only pretext for denying this is based upon the distinction of sex only

In saying this I shall have the whole innumerable army of romance writers and readers, as well as the simpletons of both sexes crying out against me nevertheless I stand to the point, and nail my colors to the mast in defense of it that it is right, proper and delicate for a woman to choose her husband, and the man thus distinguished by her choice will feel himself ennobled and sanctified, and will reward such a woman with tenfold tenderness and reverence

I am by no means willing to have it understood that I counsel women to go about "popping the question" to men here and there, like an army of grenadiers, far from it A man rarely "pops the question" till he is pretty well assured in his own mind as to the kind of response he will receive, and in all cases a refined woman prevents a lover from explaining himself where she is bent upon a denial of his suit

Literature is full of heroines who are practicing after the fashion of the Spartan boy, and follow them through innumerable pages of vapid sentiment, where they are living and acting myriads of lies in order to uphold a theory false in fact and false to nature

The two sexes are one in a scientific point of view, and there is no merit in a woman who lays her heart on the altar of pride merely for the sake of pride It is no worse for a woman to be rejected than for a man to be so, if men and women were high and true, they would each regard the other in so pure, so holy a light, that these goings forth of the heart would be too sacred ever to be revealed, they would be too solemn for jest too deeply real for gossip They would be laid away, shrouded like many a human hope, dead, but beautiful, in the lone chambers of the soul, to be looked upon reverently, just as so many of us garner in some secret receptacle a leaf, a bud, a lock of hair, whose history is known only to us and the angels.

Let our women be free not only to reject, but to choose, also. Men and women are likely to do this without any great expenditure of language, for the vocabulary of love is more expressive than words.

I have known several women of refinement and intellect, who owned that their husbands were rather sought after by them than otherwise, and these matches were certainly among the happiest I have ever known. Perhaps if a woman deludes a man in this way into marriage, she feels bound to make his condition a happy one

When I was a child, one of my mother's friends was a tall, very reverend, but most elegant woman who rarely went from home, and was far from entertaining company there, as was the custom in the hospitable part of New England She belonged to the highest rank in point of wealth and birth, was handsome and highly intellectual, and yet, with all these advantages she wrecked more than one life for lack of nerve to go through with what she began in fine spirits.

There were two brothers in the same town in which she lived, very different in character and inferior to herself in rank, but both very estimable men. The elder was plain, plodding, dull and pains-taking, but an honest and church going man whom no one could say a word against, nor would go out of the way to praise. His name was William. Now this worthy man had hardly ever appeared in any society till his brother George, who was in the navy, came home on a long furlough.

George had the peculiar dash inseparable from the navy—was manly, generous, brave and accomplished. He might not have been a model man, as dull people accounted his brother, but he was above censure or reproach of any kind, and the lady of whom I speak at first admired and then loved him She had good reason for believing the sentiment to be mutual; but, as her family was rich, haughty and exclusive, she was well convinced that he would not dare to make any advances, and she resolved, being old enough to have a right to think for herself, to write him in a way not to be misunderstood.

Accordingly she did so; but, unfortunately, she had been misinformed as to the name of her lover, and addressed her letter to William instead of George. Nothing could exceed the surprise and delight of the little man upon receiving this letter. He prepared himself in the most seductive manner to call upon the lady, letter in hand

She was aghast! Recovering herself as best she could, she faltered out;

"Your name is William, then?"

The poor innocent was not penetrating. He was full of unexpected rapture, and she, too proud to explain [illegible] ought, as she believed, in the [illegible] of her own folly, forbore to do so. She married him.

George, indignant, and yet more in sorrow than in anger, joined his ship, and never saw her again. He perished at sea.

The lady took up her self-imposed burden with a strong, brave spirit. She made poor William a faithful, dutiful, but certainly rather haughty wife, and he never seemed to admire and boast above [illegible] She kept her secret buried in her own breast till he had gone the way of all the earth, and then, finding her own end approaching, she revealed it, in a fit of weak confidence, to her eldest daughter.

Now, it was a woman living a life-long lie, but [illegible] dying with it upon her conscience [illegible] how much better worthy of a true woman it had been, to have owned to the truth bravely, and so abide the issue?

In choosing a husband, it is easier to say what a woman should not choose than to say what she should, for the best must and will depend upon characteristics best known to herself. If she is a strong woman, she may venture to marry a weak man (but if weak herself, let her beware of this, for she will put her own life out at last, and ten to one do the same ungracious office for her husband;) while a woman of nobler proportions will be more forbearing, and make up, also, for some of his deficiencies.

Let not any woman marry a man with insane blood in his veins

Let her not marry one deformed at birth, the accidental destruction of any member by war or otherwise, may excite her compassion and be no impediment to deep affection, but a congenital defect becomes hereditary, and by the laws of our being will be repugnant to a wholesome-minded woman.

She cannot and will not marry a drunkard.

She will not marry a diseased, sickly man.

Neither will a wise woman marry an old man; for the true idea of marriage is the union of youth, and health and beauty, a thorough completeness of spiritual, mental and physical life, and everything short of this is all but nauseating to a sympathetic penetrating mind, as a violation of immutable laws

She will not marry a man younger than herself, not simply for the reason so often advanced, that a woman grows older sooner than a man, which is true only because of the abuses of society, for a woman of sound health and cheerful mind, unharassed by the vulgar and wicked passions of envy, jealousy and malice, carries in her own breast a fountain of perpetual youth and beauty Let her be temperate in all things preserve her person fresh as a rose, her mind unwarped by prejudice or idleness, her soul, with all its affections and impulses, pure and loving, and she may go onward to her eighty, ninety, or a hundred years, generally beautiful to the last, fit for reverence and admiration, and worthy to sit for one of Michael Angelo's Sibyls.

Moral obliquities of many kinds are so intangible that, unless carried to that extent which shows the best part of manhood utterly corrupt and depraved, a woman is not likely to know of them, and she should be unwilling to listen to common scandal she must not trust to any spy or informer, but rely upon his truth and her own intuitions

If she expects to find Chevalier Bayards, and Admiral Crichtons, and immaculate Josephs ready for her asking, she will most likely remain without a husband. She can only hope for an approximation to the ideal, but if she is true hearted, sincere to the core, unselfish and lovely in her own life, she will be sure to make the dear one whom she allows to be the head of the republic at home, not only a happy man, but a progressively good man, growing into spiritual insight, advancing in dignity and manly worth, for she will be his helpmate in building this house.

This is plain talk, but the subject demands it, and the world is altogether too squeamish in regard to it, and so madness, deformity, drunkenness and disease go on accumulating, with all their mental and moral and physical obliquities, till the earth is a lazar house and pestilent with crime.

This is, much of it, due to that false estimate of women in the world which regards her almost exclusively in the interest of sex instead of as God's best and purest gift to man, to be his help, his comfort and his inspiration.

It is the woman that is the house and therefore she should take heed how she build it When the world grows wiser it will accept her in her higher aspect of wisdom and foresight [illegible] queen in the midst of her house, [illegible] her husband known in the gates when he sitteth with the elders, known as the husband honored, beloved and exalted by a wife whose price is above rubies.

In the time to come it will be enough to cause the cheek to tingle with shame to see a discordant marriage, for then women will choose as well as be chosen, and she will not lend herself to any relation other than the true and holy, and man will find his manhood augmented by marriage and the beautiful and holy relations which it involves

In conclusion, I think any woman will not marry before she is twenty, for by so doing she loses that fresh, joyous and hopeful period of life and a very essential part of it for the sake of health study and consolidation of character her girlhood, and she will in after life be sure to mourn the loss of this lovely period She will be twenty at the very least when she marries, and, like a true woman, she will look for a right manly man, who will be handsome in her eyes, and represent as nearly as possible her ideas of masculine perfection good sense, mental and physical health, and, above all, the certain force rest and protectiveness, always attractive in the eyes of a woman — Elizabeth Oakes Smith

DOWNFALL OF BABYLON PREDICTED IN FELON'S CELL, BY A PRISONER OF STATE.

As the handwriting in the banquet hall
Foreshadowed there Belshazzar's fall
And Daniel in the lion's den
Gave judgment to the sons of men,
Perhaps from out some felon's cell
Where England plays her game of hell,
With murder, arson theft and rape,
Some outraged prisoner of State
May light the fuse of Rodman's gun
That sinks the modern Babylon!
Americans ask what they think right
Pay your blockade bills or strip for fight,
Release our citizens—change your law,
Or clear your decks for bloody war!
What—no money after all your ill got gains
Sell Ireland then for the Alabama claims,
Or one live American in Cork
May teach forty millions how to talk
Hark To hear our cousins' harm
Get ready! 'Tis the crack of doom!

GEO FRANCIS TRAIN

A rough sample of the variety of justice meted out to negroes in the South is afforded in the brief statement in a Georgia paper that two negroes caught skinning a valuable cow, on the Augusta and Savannah Railroad, were shot at and instantly killed. No judge constable or jury,are reported to have intervened in the case, which fact leads us to coincide with the cheerful comment of the New York Express, that the fate of the cow-skinners shows that the negro who expects to live by stealing will be disappointed in Gergia The difficulty appears to be that negroes who expect to live in Georgia will be disappointed anyhow.

PRETTY SEVERE —The Chicago Post of January 10th has the following.

If any one thing has more than another power to make a Union man gnash his teeth, that thing is the impudence with which the malignant and untamed rebels of the South appeal to the Constitution of the United States to shield themselves from the punishment that their late failure to destroy that Constitution has entailed. The domain of Satan may be ransacked in vain for a parallel

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND MARCH 13, 1868

Our money quotations from New York and San Francisco are to the 11th inst On that date, gold was quoted in New York at 139⅞ and Legal Tenders at San Francisco 71½@72 The market seems quite steady in both those cities, and if effected at all by the political situation at Washington (which is not probable), the tendency is in favor of the legal tender currency.

In the local jobbing market we find very little change to note beyond the slight improvement in general trade natural to this season of the year. The spring trade with the Willamette valley is just now opening with liberal orders,and, with the expectation of a speedy renewal of business facilities in the direction of the Columbia valley, the general range of prices are firm and business prospects are good. The arrival of large invoices of goods by the last steamer served to supply some serious deficiencies in stocks, especially in the lines of dry goods and clothing, and pretty full assortments can now be obtained without much difficulty Stocks of goods are not, however so full nor as complete as is desirable and as has been usual at corresponding periods in the past. Quotations of agricultural goods dry goods, groceries, hardware, etc, are generally as last week. Agricultural goods are arriving freely at this city and San Francisco, but the season for the spring trade has scarcely opened yet. There are some orders for hardware for the Columbia river, which have come in earlier than usual—a good augury for the Spring trade

The produce market presents much the same aspect as heretofore The warehouses and all available store room are crowded to their full capacity with wheat, flour and other produce, and still there are vast amounts all along the Willamette river, above, awaiting shipment Nearly all prices are, however, nominal because the stuff cannot be shipped away. The John L. Stephens, to sail to-morrow, will carry a large cargo, perhaps not less than 1200 tons but that amount will not perceptibly diminish the aggregate on hand. There will be left perhaps not less than 10,000 to 12,000 tons which must wait the pleasure of the Steamship Co or the chance opportunities afforded by small sailing vessels The Almatia is now en route here the Fallsburg will soon be on the way; and the Occident will return as soon as possible. Beyond these, we do not know of any sailing vessels likely to come here within the month There are rumors of an opposition line of steamers to be soon put on this trade but they do not rest upon such foundation as to inspire confidence in their realization It is singular that the jobbers of Portland do not take measures for the future protection of the city's commerce, either by effecting charters with freighting vessels now idle in the bay of San Francisco, or by uniting to furnish sufficient capital to build, in the Columbia river a fleet of barks Either plan is practicable, and the only question is, will our merchants submit to the present state of things for ever, or will they assert their independence and show the monopolists that Oregon is now too much grown to be either the servant or plaything of San Francisco

Quotations of produce are unchanged, except that lard and bacon have advanced slightly

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of life or the enjoyment of life In this horrid [illegible] thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying maladies [illegible] they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse, solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath coughs consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and unique mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are trad[illegible], and brought up lazy to work at their trades Some are [illegible], shoe-makers newspaper carriers intelligence office [illegible], etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid [illegible] them is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising [illegible] physicians in eight cases out of ten, are [illegible], there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive [illegible] by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended [illegible] letters etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy [illegible] who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure
